

AMENDMENTS TO THE SPECIFICATION

In paragraph [0035], please amended paragraph [0035] as reflected in the following marked-up version of the paragraph:

[0035] When information is transferred or provided over a network or another communications connection (either hardwired, wireless, or a combination of hardwired or wireless) to a computer, the computer properly views the connection as a computer-readable medium. Thus, any such connection is properly termed a computer-readable medium. Combinations of the above should also be included within the scope of computer-readable media. Computer-executable instructions comprise, for example, instructions and data which cause a general purpose computer, special purpose computer, or special purpose processing device, such as a Graphical Processing Unit ("GPU"), to perform a certain function or group of functions.
